

Of all the forms of inequality, injustice
in health care is the most shocking and inhumane.

—Martin Luther King

RACIAL DISPARITIES IN U.S. HEALTHCARE

INEQUITIES, LIKELY CAUSES, POTENTIAL SOLUTIONS

with Dr. Stephen A. Martin

Saturday, November 5, 2016

10:15 a.m. to 12:15 p.m. Doors open at 9:45a.m.
First Congregational Church, 43 Silver Street,
Greenfield MA 01301

Dr. Stephen Martin is a practicing family physician and resident of Northfield. Since 2011, he has been a member of a Boston University research team exploring ways to help people, especially young African Americans, with their health care during and before the reproductive years. He has also published and presented on racial health care disparities, including "The Health of Young African American Men."

~ FREE ~ Donations Welcome

For childcare, RSVP with number & ages of children

For more information or to reserve childcare:

email@racialjusticerising.org

MANY THANKS to THE FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH OF GREENFIELD

This program is supported in part by grants from the Amherst, Bernardston, Buckland, Charlemont-Hawley, Greenfield, Hadley, Leverett, Montague, New Salem, Northfield, Orange, Pelham, Plainfield, Shelburne, Shutesbury, Wendell, Warwick, and Whately Cultural Councils, local agencies which are supported by the Massachusetts Cultural Council, a state agency.

Racial Justice Rising

www.racialjusticerising.org, email@racialjusticerising.org

Printing by CopyCat Print Shop, Greenfield, 413-774-3500