Using a spoken presentation and slide show, short video, and group discussion, and leaving space for questions and answers, presenter Lotte Lieb Dula will guide us to a deeper understanding of reparations for slavery.

After a disturbing discovery about her ancestry, Dula, a retired financial strategist, founded www.reparations4slavery.com, a portal for white families wishing to walk the path of racial healing through making reparations. She has designed a two-year long reparations curriculum for white people who wish to commit to engaging in reparative change; the curriculum is housed on the R4S portal with workshops offered through Coming To the Table, a grassroots organization that brings together descendants of the enslaved with descendants of enslavers to work toward racial healing and justice.

Program is free — Donations are welcome!

Our programs are supported in part by grants from these Local Cultural Councils: Amherst, Ashfield, Bernardston, Buckland, Charlemont-Hawley, Conway, Deerfield, Gill, Greefield, Heath, Montague, New Salem, Northfield, Orange, Pelham, Rowe, Shelburne, Warwick, Wendell, and Whately, local agencies which are supported by the Mass Cultural Council, a state agency.
