

RACIAL JUSTICE RISING presents

RACIAL JUSTICE – CLIMATE JUSTICE

with Tem Blessed and Russ Vernon-Jones

Racism and climate change are connected. Deepening our awareness of the connections will help us be more effective in eliminating both. People of color and indigenous people are already disproportionately bearing the harmful effects of climate change. In poetry and prose Tem and Russ will challenge us to take these issues on together and offer signs of hope for the inclusive, just world we are building together.

Tem Blessed is a spoken word artist and member of #LoveArmy

Russ Vernon-Jones is active in the Coming Together anti-racism project and Climate Action Now
